

А woman in a blue blazer is standing and speaking into a microphone, gesturing with her left hand.

A group of people are seated around a long wooden table, focused on their work. They are looking at papers and documents. One person in the foreground is holding a blue pen and looking at a smartphone. The table is cluttered with papers, pens, and glasses. In the background, there is a desk with several books and a sign that reads 'Здесь Родился Мед'.
